TestPro Systems Takes Delivery On New CNC Drilling Center

Huntsville, AL – Monday, January 10, 2005. TestPro Systems is pleased to announce the addition of a new Excellon Mark VI Drilling Center. The new drilling center is a five-spindel drill with fully automatic tool changing.

“Excellon is the “gold standard” for printed circuit board and test fixture drilling,” said Gregg Bullock, Vice President of Operations for TestPro. “This system will dramatically improve our quality, accuracy and throughput and thus allow us to serve our customers.”
